Tutoring Experience

As a tutor, I have helped students prepare for their IB exams, focusing on Psychology, English, and German. My students have benefited from my expertise in essay writing and critical analysis, improving their performance in both internal assessments and final exams. Having completed the IB myself, I understand the challenges students face and work with them to overcome these hurdles.

In addition to IB subjects, I have tutored students in A-Level and IGCSE curricula, providing tailored support to enhance their understanding and boost their confidence. Whether it's developing ideas for an extended essay or reviewing complex psychology concepts, I'm committed to helping students succeed academically.
