Tutoring Experience

I've spent 9 years tutoring IB, A-Level, and IGCSE students in mathematics. I focus on simplifying complex concepts and ensuring students are well-prepared for their exams. My experience ranges from helping students improve their grades to working with high-achievers aiming for top university placements.

In addition to teaching at school levels, I've supported students in honing their problem-solving skills and critical thinking. Through personalized lesson plans, I ensure that each student's unique learning needs are met, fostering both academic success and confidence in mathematics.
